

Enrichment Activity

Enrichment is something that keeps the chimpanzees busy like toys to play with or play on, new things to try, or even new foods to eat! Enrichment categories are food, environmental, sensory and social. Enrichment is very important for the chimps to live happy and healthy lives!

What types of enrichment do you use in your life? What types of things make you excited? What type of new things have you tried that you didn't like so much? Even that is enrichment because it was new! Think about how important enrichment is in your life. Think of some examples of types of enrichment you've had or types of enrichment you'd like to try.

Fill out the sheet and then explain why each item is important. Think about the chimps and the types of things they experience too!

Food

Example: Taco Tuesday

Environmental

Example: putting a new poster on the wall

Sensory

Example: smelling a new soap

Social

Example: taking a walk with a friend
