Looking Back

New Retirees: Twenty-nine chimpanzees arrived at Chimp Haven in 2016. In August, the National Institutes of Health announced its plan for achieving retirement for the 300 or so chimpanzees still living in one of three primate research centers. The first to arrive since the plan was announced are from the Alamogordo Primate Facility (APF) in New Mexico. Ten of the more than 130 chimps housed at APF made their way to Chimp Haven in 2016.

Expansion: We completed the Laurie and Carlee McGrath Welcoming Center, a very important addition to Chimp Haven. Not only does this new building allow us to take in more chimpanzees, it also provides a dedicated space that affords staff the critical opportunity to get to know each new arrival before they are introduced to other chimps at the sanctuary.

Chimp Haven/Lincoln Park Zoo Collaboration: We ended our second year of a three-year collaboration with Lincoln Park Zoo which resulted in the creation of a world-class video about Chimp Haven that you can view here. We installed strategically placed cameras around the sanctuary so we can observe the chimps in their habitats and continue observational research that helps inform how best to care for these amazing animals.
